CROSSING THE BAR
Alfred Tennyson

Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea.

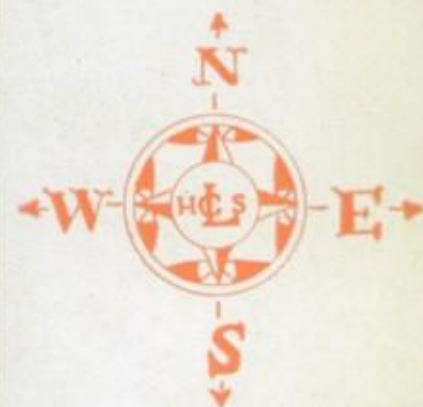

But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound and foam,
When that which drew from out the boundless deep
Turns again home.

Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of farewell,
When I embark;

For tho' from out our bourne of time and place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face,
When I have crossed the bar.

thrown the "blazing torch"

"School days, school days, dear old golden rule days" -- were the words running through our minds (with a slight satirical emphasis on the word dear) when school convened on that day back in September while the sun was still warm with left-over summer. Remember how reluctant we were to leave our former haunts and how regretfully we closed those doors behind us? But human nature is such that it quickly becomes adjusted, so we rolled up our sleeves for a busy year.

Eager to uphold the traditions of the junior class, on election day we chose the lads and lassies who, we felt, could best carry on those traditions and bring the activities of our class to a successful culmination.

With our eyes trained on that date in May when we would be called upon to execute our most important assignment, the Prom, we started our campaign of raising funds by selling pencils. Our snappy sales talks convinced the students that a pencil with the basketball schedule was a "must" on their list.

Everything was running smoothly, the coke machine was doing a thriving business, profits were piling high; so we decided to take a fling at the social side of life. Our two dances were a wonderful success -- from many angles -- eh, kids?

Prom night! Two words of enchantment and magic -- two words which were both a promise and a fulfillment -- Prom night in May when the air was warm with promises of spring, and our hearts thrilled to the rhythm of the music. All too soon the fleeting hours had vanished and before we realized it, Cinderella's hour had come. It was midnight, and we were enjoying a buffet supper.

The green's worn off

Ho-hum, life is just a bowl of cherries! No longer freshies and not yet important upper-classmen, without a worry in the world, the sophomores glided serenely through their second year of high school.

What a spirited bunch they have proved to be! Remember when they arrived out our way as gullible infants? Do our readers recall the senior day program back in 1941 when these people as freshies saluted the seniors so courteously by deserting them when the seniors sang "Goodbye, Freshies"? Here's the catch: the freshies took it literally and walked out.

But now the green is wearing off. The voice of the sophomores is the voice of experience. They have endured the jibes of smirking upperclassmen; they have graduated from the depths to the first rung on the ladder to fame and prominence in the high school world; they have been seen at all the parties, dances, and basketball games; they have been caught romancing with upperclassmen; they are a part of school life.

Best wishes and lots of success to these people who will execute the important assignments of juniors next year.

"The corn is green"

With warmth of the mellow autumn sunshine still surging through their bronze legs, the newcomers wriggled their toes in the dust for the last time, put on their shoes, pushed their childhood pleasures into the past, and approached the portals of L. C. H. S., to enter the educational gyration which is the consummation of all their desires.

The Freshmen

Bewildered? Yes. But eager to learn a new way of life, the freshmen, lost in the shuffle of world-wise upperclassmen, wandered in big-eyed wonderment through the halls as if lost in a labyrinth. With naive simplicity they listened to the advice of the sophisticated upperclassmen who knew all the ropes: "Get your lessons the first six weeks and the rest will be easy . . .". Those who took the advice learned the bitter truth on Wednesday of the seventh week! Those who didn't fared better and managed at least to "keep above C level".

After getting in the groove with their first class meeting in September and electing their officers, the freshies made plans for the future. A Halloween party, with witches 'n everything, was held at the Conservation Club where all the "hepcats" really gave the old shoe leather a work out. A success, you say? Well rather. So successful in fact, that another jamboree was held in April with dancin' and eatin' as the favorite entertainment.

Orchids to the freshmen who have claimed their place in the sun.

A snappy theme, an enthusiastic staff --- these are the inception of a successful annual.

Each staff member set out to produce a work indicative of his respective talent and to bring satisfaction to the recipients of the annual. Cameras snapped, dummies were compiled, everyone racked his brain for ideas, and write-ups were written and rewritten.

The result was a panoramic view of school life with a colorful display of close-ups to intrigue its readers and surpass all previous goals set for yearbooks.

The staff room is comparable to a laboratory in which the students experiment with five basic elements -- who, what, when, where, and why.

The staff molds and the paper expresses the thoughts and sentiments of the student body.

Although a comparatively new organization in L. C. H. S., the Thespians are quickly gaining recognition from the student body and the public.

The present members, through their meritorious participation in plays and stage work, have received their memberships from the National Thespian Dramatic Honor Society. The students feel that it is an honor to be a member of this outstanding Society and are willing to work hard to attain membership.

The aim of this Society is to create a spirit of active and intelligent interest in dramatics among the boys and girls of our high schools and to further dramatics as an essential part of the educational program.

The "play is the thing", but few people realize all the work required for a successful production. Footlights have to be adjusted; make-up has to be applied on each individual according to the role he is playing; scenery has to be designed, constructed, and painted. Prompters have to be on hand at all times; lines and cues must be learned perfectly. All this is essential before the curtain rises for opening night.

The dramatics department has given two three-act and two one-act comedies this year, and the enthusiasm and co-operation shown by the crowds attending these plays made the members of the club feel that the effort was worth everything they put into it.

“SAY IT WITH MUSIC”

Band

To express through music the pride in L. C. H. S. is the aim of the band. Their lively music and colorful uniforms arouse the enthusiasm of the whole student body. One of the outstanding performances of the season was that of the marching band which presented Uncle Sam in Review at the traditional Lawrenceburg-Aurora game. The cadence of marching feet combined with the patriotic music introduced a sensational program.

Glee Club

Glee Club affords an opportunity for the improvement of the voice and helps acquaint its members with music which is highly rated in the vocal field. Many assemblies have been high-lighted by the appearance of this organization which has made the student body realize what an important part music plays in our lives.

Choir

The choir has given real pleasure to its listeners. Clad in black robes and orange stoles the members make an impressive appearance to all those having seen any of their performances. They have added grace and charm to many school programs by blending their harmonious voices to the music of old and new selections.

Since so much of our modern-day culture comes from the Romans, the facts brought out in discussion on the ancient Romans, their gods, their heroes, and early astronomy help the students in the club to learn something of the customs and ideals of the Romans as well as our own country.

The students are divided into committees who plan the programs and prepare refreshments. Meetings are held on the third Thursday of every month at the home of a member of the committee.

Tempus fugit -- it is time for another Latin Club banquet. This is a gala occasion which brings down the curtain for another year.

Chess and Rifle Clubs

Chessically speaking, chess is a game of mental combat. So, if all is quiet during a chess game -- well, what do you expect? Maybe the knight is contemplating an assault on the bishop, and maybe the queen is trying to take the castle.

All in all, chess is a combat of uncanny acumen -- a fight of shrewdness -- a game of skill.

The Rifle Club was organized under the auspices of the American Legion last year, but because of other interfering activities the organization saw little action this season.

The club meets in the basement of the high school where a fifty-foot range has been constructed which provides a place for rifle and pistol shooting. Safety is emphasized as an important factor in target practice.

By shooting its way through the year this club has turned out to be a bang.

What is school spirit! You say that it is an indefinable quality which makes the kids proud of their school, glad to be a part of it, and always eager to support its activities? For a tangible symbol of school spirit one needed only to witness the enthusiasm which the Booster Club has exhibited at the basketball games during the past season.

The Booster Club stands for good sportsmanship and has helped visiting teams and their rooters feel that they are always welcome. They have created such a fine spirit that our school is considered outstanding in maintaining the ideals of fair play.

The purpose of this club is to encourage a more enthusiastic support of all high-school athletics among the student body, and among the public and also to maintain the standard of ethics in sportsmanship expected in high competition..

The requirement for entrance into this club is that one must have earned a letter in a major interscholastic sport participated in Lawrenceburg Consolidated High School.

Here is a candid shot of the Camera Club, an activity which provides instruction and opportunity for practice necessary in learning the fundamentals of photography.

This year, for the first time, the members undertook the task of making a pinhole camera. In addition to this project, each member was given personal instruction in the selection of correct films, forms of lighting, the making of exposures under various conditions, developing, printing, and the finishing of the print.

The boys and girls on N. Y. A. have been very busy this year. Despite the fact that the funds appropriated have been drastically reduced by the National Defense Program, the students realize this reduction is for a good cause and are working all the harder.

The mimeograph machine sometimes sticks, typewriters won't work as they should, and papers to be graded are stacked high; but in the face of all this the kids keep working, confident that they are doing their best.

Outside speakers, reports, special projects, and games proved both enlightening and entertaining during the monthly meetings. The year was climaxed by the most important social event -- La Fete de Mai.

"To make the best better" is a worthy motto for an active nation-wide organization which is open to all girls who are interested in any phase of home economics.

In recognition for their work in 4-H Club, Hazel Olds and Ruth Merz were awarded trips to Purdue University for the annual round-up; Ruth also attended the State Fair School.

4-H Club work in the home defense program will prove to play as large a part as any phase of defense activity sponsored by universities and state departments.

February 28 - Basketball season ends with a bang -- for Aurora. Score: Lawrenceburg 32, Aurora 34.

March 19 - A super colossal show! Dramatics Club triumphs again with the presentation of Tish.

March 27 - "Come On Down South" and listen to the music of the Plantation Minstrels as the music department presents their annual minstrel.

April 1 - April Fool!

April 2 - Easter bunny lays an egg which hatches into a two day vacation.

May 2 - It's here, guys and gals - Prom night. Need we say more?

May 7-8 - Seniors climax theater season with the traditional class play.

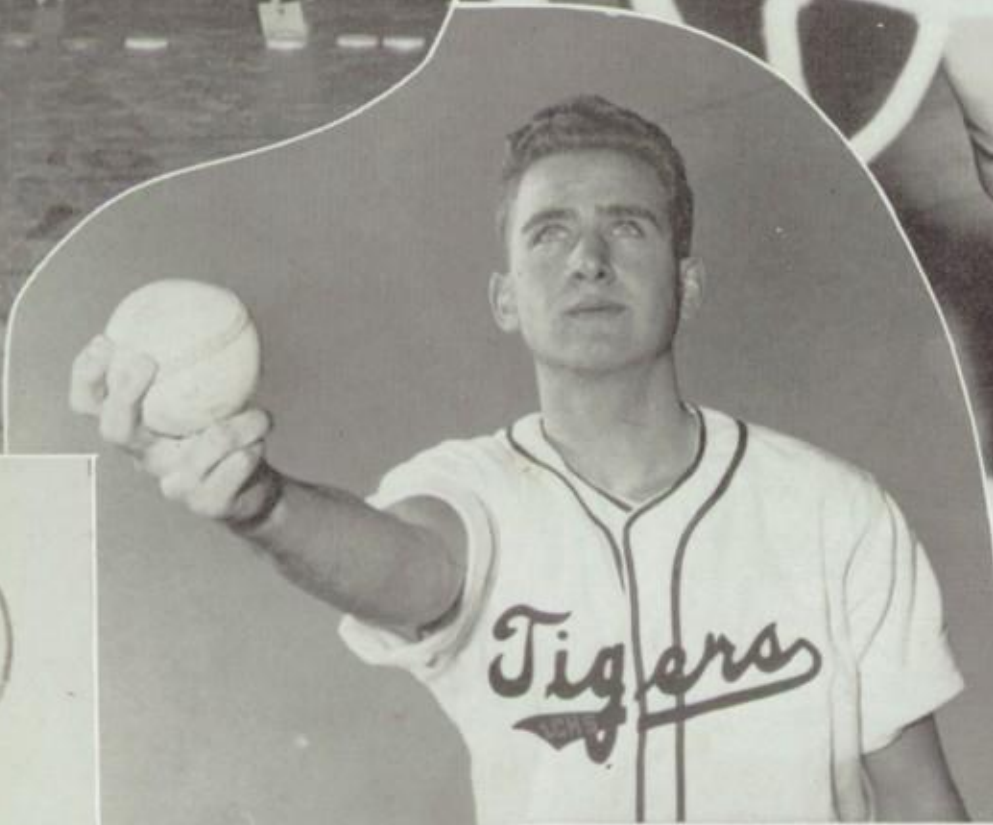

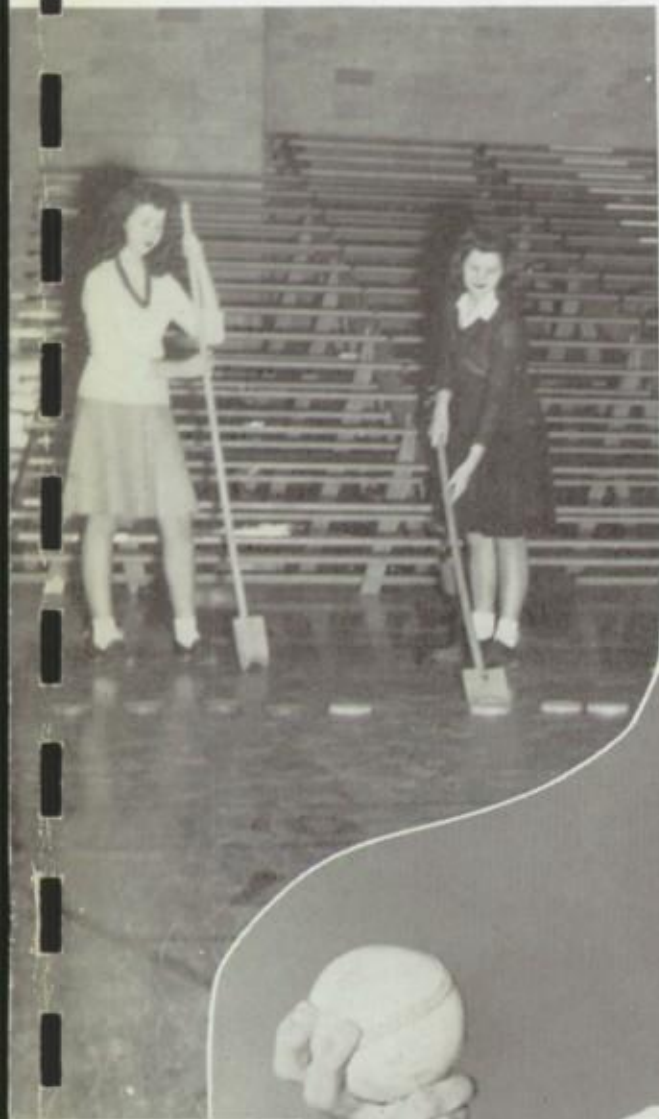

May 22 - Salute to the Seniors! Graduating seniors toot their horns for the last time.

May 24 - Baccalaureate - Seniors don caps and gowns for home stretch.

May 26 - After four years of service, seniors are given their honorable (?) discharge at commencement.

The Athletics

Sports for all.

FIRST ROW:

H. Nanz, G. Horn, R. Oppen,
E. Kirsch, B. Townsend, M.
Hafenbrittle, J. Farrar.

SECOND ROW:

Coach Bateman, V. Lacy, P.
Schmidt, J. McWethy, J.
Nowlin, R. Kittle, J. Standriff, student manager.

VIRGIL "DITTY" LACY:

Ditty, a guard, is the "set" shot artist and ball handler of the Tigers' quintet. It was Ditty who led Lawrenceburg to a 42-29 win over Batesville after the Canines had licked Coach Bateman's charges at the outset of the season. Ditty will no doubt be at guard when the Tigers open their next loop campaign.

JACK "BUCK" NOWLIN:

Buck is Coach Bateman's most dependable man when it comes to defense and usually is assigned to one of the opponent's high-scoring aces. Buck is a senior, and his absence will be greatly felt next fall.

GEORGE "YOTS" HORN:

Horn, because of illness in September, didn't break into the lineup until after the Christmas holidays; but when he did, he proved a cog in the Tiger machine. Yots, a senior who towers 6'3", is another "set" shot specialist who tallies many a point by this route.

'DOWN THE HARDWOOD'

JIMMY "STAR DUST" FARRAR:

Farrar, a sophomore, has shown flashes of form this season and will be in there fighting for a regular starting berth next season.

RAYMOND "SCALDIE" TODD: (not in picture.)

Todd, another sophomore, is a speed merchant who is all over the floor. His speed and accuracy in shooting should be an asset to future Tiger teams.

PAUL "SCHMIDTIE" SCHMIDT:

Paul, a junior, is another boy who likes to cut loose on those long ones. He saw action in several of the Tiger's important contests and should be very useful next year.

JOHN "DUFFY" McWETHY:

Johnnie's specialty is the pivot shot where he has few equals. He is also useful under the bucket, getting more than his share of rebounds. He is only a junior and undoubtedly will be at one of the forward posts in the starting lineup next season.

EMMERT "RED" KIRSCH:

Red's 6'2" frame has taken many a rebound off both the Tigers' and their opponent's backboards. Pivots from the foul circle and "tip-ins" are Red's favorite shots. He is a junior and will be back with several other boys next season in which the Orange and Black are expected to make a strong bid for conference honors.

DICK "GABBY" OPPEN:

Coupled with McWethy at forward the greater part of the season, Gabby tallied an even 100 points in 21 contests. Oppen was one of three seniors who made up the Sectional team. At times, he has been outstanding; one of his best nights was at Connersville where he bagged twelve markers.

BRUCE "SLATS" TOWNSEND:

Slats is the boy who gave the fans heart failure with that now famous long shot during the Aurora game in the Sectional. It was his long, you remember, with Aurora leading 34-32, that hit the outer rim of the basket, bounced against the backboard and then rolled off to the side as the gun cracked. Bruce is another junior who will be a member of the Tigers' veteran outfit next November.

The call for fall training in basketball, Indiana's sport of sports, was received enthusiastically by both the basketball boys, the students, and many other loyal followers.

Farrar, Hafenbritle, Kittle, Nanz, and Traylor usually started the games. These boys along with the rest of the team have played good ball and show much promise for the coming season.

The boys had a rather difficult schedule, but under the capable guidance of their coach emerged successfully. The season also was filled with surprises since many of the smaller teams in this section showed decided improvement. The boys took their wins and losses in their stride, believing that it isn't the score that counts -- it's the playing.

STANDING:

Jim Farrar, Henry Nanz,
Dick Stadtlander, Mike Hafenbritle, Gene Snyder, Jerry Gray, Coach Bateman.

*Girls
Athletics Association*

When October rolled around last fall, activities of the Girls' Athletic Association were well under way. The season was begun with a series of kickball sessions. As "Old Man Winter" made his presence known, the girls retreated to indoor quarters and engaged in that favorite Indiana sport, basketball. Winter activities wound up with volleyball, ping pong, and aerial dart. As spring came tip-toeing around the corner, the girls went to such sports as tennis, archery, and baseball.

The same point system as last year is still being used. To achieve certain point honors, the members have been taking more interest in such outside sports as hiking, bicycling, horse-back riding, skating, bowling, and swimming.

Some of the junior girls received G. A. A. pins, while many of the senior girls have won sweaters and letters as awards for their interest in this activity over the last four years.

Intramural sports are played among boys of the various classes in the school to develop sportsmanship, encourage friendships, and promote an interest in athletics.

Softball made its appearance in the form of four teams -- one for each class. Several weeks later basketball teams were organized and their captains, representatives, and director worked out a schedule. Shortly afterwards play was started. Between the playing of softball and basketball, other sports, including ping-pong, tennis, and touch football, were played.

Although the boys who participate in the intramural sports do not receive any awards, an all-star team was selected from the outstanding players. This team challenged the second team and defeated them one out of two games played.

STRIKE THREE! YOU'RE OUT!

"In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of" -- baseball. Spring practice called forth a group of aspirants who were eager to keep last year's conference standing of first place. If they don't win the conference this year, at least they will be in there pitching.

WE'VE SCORED AGAIN!

The softball team -- OUT OUR WAY -- is really something to brag about.

The schedule called for the team to play eighteen games. The vigor and vim with which the players tackled the games was edifying; and after the dust of battle had cleared away, we found that they had finished in second place in the conference, with twelve wins, one tie, and only five setbacks. The tie game resulted from the fact that the lights went out in the ball-park during a game with Aurora.

Many of the softball players received letter awards for participating in at least fifty per cent of the games played this season.

APPRECIATION

The Staff of OUT OUR WAY wishes to express sincere appreciation to the sponsors of this book. Without their help the publication of this 1942 year book would have been impossible and we gratefully acknowledge the assistance and co-operation given us.
